Announcements.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

The News is authorized to announce that W. H. Benty is a candidate for re-election to the office of County Surveyor, subject to the action of the democratic party.

GROVER CLEVELAND DEAD.

Grover Cleveland, up to June 24th the only living ex-president, died at Princeton, New Jersey, last Wednesday morning. He was past seventy-one years of age, having been born in the state of New Jersey March 8, 1837. In 1884 he was elected president of the United States, on the democratic ticket, defeating James G. Blaine, of Maine. Again the same party's candidate in 1888, he was defeated by Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana. For the third time he became the standard bearer of his party, and in 1892 defeated Harrison by an overwhelming majority, both on the popular and electoral vote. Since leaving the presidency, he has resided at Princeton, and has devoted a portion of his time to Princeton University, of which institution Woodrow Wilson is president.

Taft and Sherman really make a strong pair. Taft will tell what the reformed republican party is going to do and Sherman will proclaim its past glories. Taft may declare for a revision of the tariff; Sherman will assert that our boundless wealth has come as a result of tariff taxation. Taft is supposed to be facing the elephant's head, while all the world knows that Sherman is looking over the same animal's caudal appendage. In this case, the real danger is that the tail will wag the elephant.

Secretary Taft has ordered the quartermaster general to reserve a plot in the Arlington cemetery as a site for a monument in honor of negro soldiers who died in the civil war. The order was issued immediately after his nomination for president, and is calculated to catch the negro vote. There is nothing wrong with the order, and it might, in justice, have been issued years ago; but coming just when it did, it is too transparent for even the hard-skulled negro to fail to see through it.

This office is kept busy turning out job work for the live business men of Carrizozo. We are here for business, and are getting our share of it, for obvious reasons. Our stock is of the best kind and every job sent out shows quality and artistic taste. Long-headed business men want good printing, and they know it when they see it. They do not order printing from sentiment, but from cold-blooded business motives. If you want the best in printing, this office can furnish it.

DO YOU KNOCK?

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't growl or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker. Your turn will come—no one man is the whole show. If your town is moving nicely, feel good about it; help things along; show a little push. Try to get some of the benefit yourself. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean, keep your mouth shut. Don't be a knocker. No man ever made a dollar knocking; no man ever got rich or happy minding everybody's business but his own. No man ever assisted himself, permanently, by knocking his neighbor down. Give up a kind word: give it liberally—it won't cost you a cent, and you may want one yourself someday. Say, don't be a knocker. You can't afford it—it won't pay. If you want to throw something at somebody, throw cologne or roses; don't throw brickbats, or mud. If you must kick, go behind the barn and take a good kick at yourself; for if you feel that way, you're the man who needs kicking. But whatever you do, don't be a knocker.

If there is a chance to boom business, boom it. Don't pull a long face—get a smile on you; hold up your head. Get hold with both hands, then pull: bury the hatchet; drop your tomahawk. When a stranger drops in, tell him this is the greatest town on earth—it is. Don't roast. It's dead easy—help yourself along: push your friend with you. No man ever got rich trying to make people believe that he was the only man on earth. You can't climb the ladder of fame by stepping on other people's corns—they're tender.

All men are not alike. Once in-a-while you may find one who is very much alike: but some are different. You are not the only shirt in the wash. If you don't like their style, let 'em alone. Don't knock. You'll get used to it. There's no end of fun in minding your own business; and it will make other people like you better. Nobody gets stuck on a knocker—don't be one; be good.

P. C. BAIRD.

A recount of the votes cast at the last election will show that Larrazolo was far in the lead for delegate; and if Mr. Andrews can find time to grant a hearing, congress will, no doubt, seat Mr. Larrazolo.
